Hackberry Rodeo and Cameron Communications

Hackberry, LA – In the community of Hackberry, normally dominated by the sounds of shrimp boats, the sound of thundering hooves takes over during the annual Hackberry High School Rodeo. Featuring the talents of high schoolers in various events, this all-day event had something to delight everyone’s fancy.

With a donation of $500 towards the purchase of championship buckles and prizes, Cameron Communications and the Mustangs had a day to remember! With different events happening all day long, there was something for every cowboy to enjoy. Trina Johnson, Public Relations Coordinator for Cameron Communications presented the $500 check to Kevin Moreau with the Hackberry Rodeo and Jacob Constance, who was a participant in this year’s event.

Trina Johnson had this to say about the rodeo, “Events that foster a spirit and competitive drive in kids help them build character for the rest of their lives.” She continued, “Any event that also helps them learn about, how to care for and train an animal on their own only furthers their ability to be responsible. We’re happy to help foster the energy, motivation and responsibility of today’s youth.”

Cameron Communications is Southwest Louisiana’s provider of Fiber technology, bringing Digital Cable, High-Speed Internet and Phone service to Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes.
